SIXTY-EIGHTH YEAR

VINEGAR BUDGET TOO SOUR FOR TAX-PAYER

OTTAWA, May 19.—(BUP)—Veteran parliamentary observers today had more names for finance minister Doug Abbott's budget than a centipede has legs.

Here are a few of the "tags" already hung on the budget:
Abbott's agony; the vinegar budget; the rainy-day budget; the no-election budget; and the wheelchair, or senate, budget—the latter apparently a reference to concessions granted to persons over 65. Perhaps the mildest and most polite name tacked on it was the "anti-inflation" appellation of Abbott himself.

Edmonton Disappointed By Failure to Cut Income Tax

Edmontonians greeted Finance Minister Abbott's budget today with more than a little apprehension. Most folk could see little, if any, relief.

NO BUDGET BLUES TO BOTHER THESE THREE

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 19.—(AP)—Three tired but happy gamblers cashed in chips totalling $33,100 early yesterday and announced that their system for beating roulette is a success.

They said they wanted to rest, and that their future plans were indefinite. Earlier, they had claimed they were $39,000 ahead of the wheel.

The trio, relieving each other in continuous play since May 10, are Jack Cortez, 32, of New York; Roy Wolford, 25, San Diego, Calif., and Albert Hibbs, 23, of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Their play attracted large crowds. Some bystanders cashed in on the trio's "system" of consistently playing number one.

One spectator who began with $3 in nickel chips cashed in $3,800.

Married Life Begins at 70

BOTH IN THEIR SEVENTIES, but young in spirit, this bridal couple was wed in Edmonton Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Chretien have ventured forth again on the seas of matrimony at the ages of 73 and 75, respectively. The bride has had one previous marriage and the bridegroom, two. Mr. Chretien has 68 grandchildren, none of whom attended the ceremony.

BRIDEGROOM HAS 68 GRANDCHILDREN

Just Youngsters at 70 And Just Married, Too

By FRANCES GEDDES

Life begins at 75, think Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Chretien, married at St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church Tuesday morning. She was married for the second time; he, for the third.

The bride is 73 and the bridegroom 75. Mrs. David Quessel who was matron-of-honor, is 79. Best man, Mr. Quessel, brother of the bride, is 83.

Whirlwind courtships aren't only for the young. Six weeks ago bride and bridegroom didn't even know each other. It's just two weeks since they became engaged.

The bride, the former Mrs. S. LaBelle of Thorold, married into a large family when she chose to become Mrs. Chretien. Her husband has 68 grandchildren.

The 68 were not present. Neither were his children. Scattered over the country, they hadn't heard of their father's plans.

The 15 guests at the wedding and reception included two of Mrs. Chretien's five children: Philip of Edmonton and Napoleon of Thorold.

They were rather amazed at their mother's decision. Said her daughter-in-law, "She came to the city just for a visit and look what happened!"

Complete with jaunty spring hat, smart blue suit, gardenia corsage and happy smile, the bride was shy when interviewed and was willing to let her husband do the talking.

The newlyweds plan a honeymoon in Vancouver and Victoria and may settle at the coast if they like it.

If not, they will return to Bonnyville where Mr. Chretien has lived for many years.

"We're just going to travel and have a good time," they say.

The bride is starting out her married life on the right foot. Her sons claim she's a wonderful cook.

Taxes Off Betting, Shows, Some Food

By Dick Jackson

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 19.—Finance Minister Abbott last night brought his budget down with a jolt.

Turning deliberately from any general tax reduction, he regarded his $720,000,000 cash surplus as an "umbrella," put away in debt retirement for what he spoke of as a possible future "rainy day."

With this surplus "on a narrow accounting basis" the government could "have afforded to reduce taxes by a considerable amount," he admitted, but the "present circumstances were not appropriate" for far-reaching cuts.

So in a series of shallow digs into his expected revenue—none of which went deeper than $23,500,000—he proposed seven small cut-backs calculated to save the taxpayer $73,200,000.

Biggest concession to the tax-payer came in his announcement of the decision to repay in a lump sum before next March 31 the refundable portions of the 1943 and '44 income tax running $230,000,000.

Tax Off Some Food

Mr. Abbott's tax changes:

1.—Abolition of the eight per cent sales tax on some 40 food commodities such as soups, cereals, vegetable and pure fruit juices, and canned, frozen, dehydrated or prepared meats, fruits and vegetables.

At a press conference, Mr. Abbott's experts from the finance department said there was no way of being "certain" this tax-saving would be passed back to the consumer, and even if it were, "over an indefinite period of time," it would not cut retail prices the theoretical eight per cent.

2.—Suspension to June 30 of next year of tariffs on a hoped-for 80,000 yards of cotton and rayon from Britain.

(Mr. Abbott's experts said this tariff suspension would not so much reduce the prices of shirts, pajamas and other garments, but perhaps prevent further increases.)

3.—Removal of the 25 per cent retail sales tax on silver-plated cutlery, alarm clocks worth less than $10, and Braille watches for the blind.

4.—Elimination of federal entertainment taxes of 20 per cent on theatre admissions; 25 per cent on night clubs, cocktail and dining lounges, and five per cent on race track mutuels.

5.—Raising from $5,000 to $50,000 the exemption level on estates for Dominion succession duties.

This would relieve 90 per cent of estates from the Dominion tax, said Mr. Abbott's experts, and exempt estates of less than $50,000 from all succession duties except in Ontario and Quebec where provincial governments had not undertaken to keep out of this revenue field.

Soviet Shows No Sign 'Peace' Move Sincere

By R. H. Shackford

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(BUP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall said today that since the Russians opened their "peace offensive" they have shown no signs of sincerely seeking agreements in existing international bodies.

Marshall's statement to a news conference supplemented the one of a week ago when he called for "action" by the Soviet Union in various international disputes.

What the world needs so urgently, Marshall said today, is constructive and remedial action, particularly on questions which are before international bodies.

Referring directly to Premier Joseph Stalin's recent proposal to negotiate a settlement of the cold war, Marshall said that the Soviet program, Marshall said, the sincerity of the stated desire of the Soviets would be determined by their attitude in the various bodies where negotiations among all interested nations are under way. Progress in the past has been prevented by the Soviets, he said.

When asked specifically whether the Soviets had shown any sign of changing their obstructive tactics in Korea, Berlin, Japan, etc., Marshall said there had been no indication of such a change since the latest "peace" talk controversy started.

He agreed that there had not been much time for such a change to occur.

LONDON, May 19.—(AP)—The Moscow radio said tonight the United States State Department has contradicted itself in rejecting the Wallace-Stalin proposals for bilateral negotiations between Russia and the United States.

Princess Margaret Rose, 17-year-old sister of the late-apparent to the British throne, is believed to have been rescued from a British ship, the Stony Mountain, near Winnipeg, after a heavily armed Canadian National railway coach was used for the transfer. Overcrowding in the eastern prison.

In Barrie, Ontario, Vernon Adams was accidentally buried under 20 tons of wet sand; was still alive when rescuers reached him 35 minutes later. The sand had formed an air pocket around him.

Lewis Quits Coal Parley
By CHARLES HEROLD
WASHINGTON, May 19.—(UPI)—John L. Lewis walked out on the soft coal conference. His action raised the threat of a new bituminous strike before June 30.

Lewis quit the conference when the coal operators voted over his objections, to seat Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers' Association. The United Mine Workers chief walked out with this announcement:

NO CONFERENCE
"I make the observation that there is now no conference. The operators have voted themselves and the United Mine Workers out of this conference. There is no one to guarantee the 'all rent from this moment on'."

"The wage policy committee of the union" will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning," he said to the union delegates.

The union committee presumably will decide whether to charge that the operators now have violated the contract, which runs until June 30, and if it warrants a new work stoppage.

Lewis and the UMW now are under an 80-day no-strike injunction as a result of the recent pension strike. But this injunction does not apply to a strike over new contract negotiations. The government would have to seek a new injunction to prevent such a walkout.

Arabs Advancing In Old Jerusalem

400 Jewish Troops Said On Verge of Surrender

WITHIN THE OLD CITY OF JERUSALEM, May 19.—(AP)—Arab forces had driven more than half way through the Jewish quarter today.

(This dispatch was filed at 10:30 a.m. London—4:30 a.m. CDT.)
About 400 Jewish soldiers of Hagana and Irgun Zvai Leumi were reported on the verge of surrender. The guns of the Jordan Arab Legion and Palestinian volunteers are pounding many Hagana positions in the remainder of Jerusalem.

The Jewish garrison in the old city attempted to bargain with the command of the Arab volunteers over surrender terms this morning. When no decision was reached, the bombardment was resumed.

OTHER HAPPENINGS
An Hagana communique issued in Tel Aviv announced: Jewish forces evacuated the village of Hatrouf near Jerusalem. The Arabs were repulsed yesterday in their attack on Kefar Sava, which the Jews occupied two days ago.

Negba, northern settlement of Negev (the southern desert) was attacked from the air yesterday without casualties.
El Kubeila, south of Rehoboth, was captured yesterday by the Jews.

Jewish forces, which yesterday captured Kabab El Hawa south of the Sea of Galilee, repulsed last night two Arab attempts to capture the village. Thirty Arabs were killed.

Earlier, Irgun Zvai Leumi said in an Arab city astride the vital Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway.
An Irgun communique said Arab casualties at Hamele, 12 miles south of here and about 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem, ran into the hundreds, and that Iraqi and Trans-Jordan troops defending the city have appealed for help.

June 21 Deadline For Strike Ballots
MONTREAL, May 19.—(CP)—Frank H. Hall, chairman of a committee representing railway brotherhood members in wage negotiations with the railroads, announced yesterday that June 21 has been set as the deadline for return of strike ballots sent to 150,000 rail workers.

There is only one country's goods which will benefit from the three percent tax on imports from countries outside the preferential tariff zone.

That country is Japan.
There are some Japanese goods in our stores," remarked one department store manager, "but they don't sell. We've had to cut prices on them by one half to get rid of them."

VINEGAR PRICE DROP
Vinegar prices should show a drop of a little more than seven per cent, a spokesman for a local vinegar plant said.
The price drop should follow the repeal of the excise tax of 60 cents a gallon on the spirits used in the manufacture of vinegar.

"We'll have to wait in any case for some time before the effect of the budget on any retail prices can be determined," he said.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK
Department store managers took a gloomy outlook on the overall picture presented by the budget announcement.

Said one: "I don't think it will have much effect on this town."

Weather Helps Oil-Well Battle
Clear, warm weather today came to the aid of crews battling to regain control of Atlantic No. 3 well in the Leduc oil field.

Placing of flow lines in position prior to an attempt to bring the well back into production was proceeding satisfactorily.

Shale plugging the hole has been loosened but not entirely freed. Engineers were said to be ready to try a new method to bring the well back into control, the nature of which has not been revealed.

Nick Minille Caught in U.S.
OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Nicholas (Nick) Minille, one of Canada's most hunted criminals, today is behind bars.

His capture by Oakland, Calif., police after a nine months international hunt brought words of thanks from Maj.-Gen. R. B. Gibson, penitentiaries commissioner.

Gen. Gibson had been waiting for the capture since Aug. 18 when a spectacular escape over the high walls of Kingston penitentiary set free Minille, 24, an Ottawa kidnapper; and his two bank robber companions, Donald (Mike) McDonald, 41, and Ulysse Lauzon, 26.

TWO OTHERS HUNTED
The report of Minille's capture was disclosed after police at Oakland, Calif., checked fingerprints of an apprehended burglar and found them to tally with the much-wanted criminal.

Police immediately began to scour the Los Angeles district in the hope of finding the other two convicts.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers will be dispatched to return the convict to his prison cell, if the United States charges against him "were not serious," Minille was serving a 17-year term; Lauzon and McDonald, 35 years.

Only Eight Pct. Of Crops Seeded
Only eight per cent of Alberta's 1948 wheat crop was seeded at the end of last week, the Alberta Wheat Pool reported yesterday. Most of the seeding has been confined to the southeast corner of the province.

"Undoubtedly this makes a record for late seeding in the history of Alberta grain growing," the pool reported. The previous latest spring reported in 15 years was 1940, when by May 15, 42 per cent of the wheat was in the ground.

The pool reported that farmers already are planning to cut last year's 6,634,000 wheat acreage by 12 per cent. It more rain sets in this figure will be increased. Out- acreage is expected to increase nine per cent, barley 11 per cent, rye 21 per cent and flax will go down one per cent.

Top soil and sub-soil moisture conditions are reported "almost perfect."

HANOVER, Germany, May 19.—(Reuters)—Food protest strikes here at their height saw 100,000 workers idle in the Hanover area and 80,000 in Bavaria ended yesterday.

Cost of War Means No Cut in Our Income Tax

year an added income tax exemption of $500. Income tax allowances now granted to mining, oil and gas industries for exploration purposes are extended through 1949.

Through the limited concessions will apply to a considerable number of people, but the effect on all reduction was interpreted by some observers to mean that a general election is not likely this year. However, Mr. Abbott in effect warned against optimism in regard to future budgets.

"With the public demand there is today for additional government responsibilities and expenditures in many fields, we must anticipate large budgets in future and we cannot lightly reduce tax rates in any field. Those who advocate increased expenditure should bear in mind the weight of our budgetary problems in the future."

The greater part of the Canadian tariff stands as it was under the Geneva trade agreements and the relatively few changes made are designed to assist textile imports from Britain and the entry of machinery, especially for mining, but to some extent for building and dairy products.

The British preferential tariff on cotton and rayon piece goods is suspended until June 30, 1949, with the purpose of lowering their price range to Canadian buyers, and the United Kingdom will take all possible steps to see that the tariff for shipment to Canada of 80,000 yards of cotton goods in 1948 is met.

Also, certain goods may be exempt from special dumping duties, if it is decided that their importation is necessary. The three-per-cent excise tax on imports from general tariff countries, now largely a dead letter, is repealed.

TABACCO STICKS
Various minor changes are made. No reductions are given for liquor, tobacco, candy bars or soft drinks.

All income tax changes are effective from Jan. 1 and other changes today.

Though the taxpayers get little relief from this budget, the individual's income tax will be lower this year than last, and thousands will get substantial cheques from the receiver-general.

This is because last year's deductions applied only to the last six months of 1947, while they apply to all of 1948. It is estimated that this will reduce 1948 taxes as compared with 1947 by an average of 12 to 15 per cent. Also, taxpayers of 1943 and 1944 will get next March the refundable portion of their taxes for those two years in one lump, to a total of $230,000,000.

Mr. Abbott gave the house a picture of great economic activity and high revenues.

BIG SURPLUS
For the fiscal year ending next March 31, he forecast a surplus of $489,000,000—from estimated revenues of $2,664,000,000 and expenditures of $2,175,000,000.

For the fiscal year ended last March there was a surplus of $670,000,000 from revenues of $2,869,000,000 and revenues of $2,199,000,000.

Pool Paying Out Excess Earnings
CALGARY, May 19.—(CP)—The Alberta Wheat Pool today mailed cheques totalling some $530,000 to farmers who delivered oats and barley between Aug. 1 and Oct. 21, 1947. The payment was 14½ cents a bushel on barley and 10½ cents on oats.

From Aug. 1 to Oct. 21 last year, the Federal government maintained ceiling prices of 65 cents a bushel for oats and 39 cents a bushel for barley, both basis Fort William. The ceilings were removed Oct. 21. The cheques mailed yesterday represent payment on excess earnings on the volume of oats and barley delivered prior to Oct. 21 to farmers who had made such deliveries.

University Head Warns of Dangers

Canada Must Be Alert To Insidious Propaganda

Canada must maintain alertness to the danger of Russian propaganda and infiltration, and keep armed strength and industrial potential as protection.

This was stated by Dr. Robert Newton, University president, in his convocation address to 300 graduating students today.

He was speaking at the second day of the two-day 38th annual U of A convocation in McDougall United Church.

About 1,000 people attended the afternoon ceremonies.

HONORARY DEGREE
Mr. Justice Harold Hayward, P.C., B.A., B.C.L., LL.D., received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University at the convocation.

Mr. Justice Hayward has been chairman of the Varsity board of governors for several years.

In his address, Dr. Newton told graduating students that Canada must both protect herself against Russia and learn to live with Russia.

"We must recognize that the resistance of our people to the insidious propaganda of Communism will be proportional to their contentment with their lot," he said.

"It must be our business to see that all of them enjoy a satisfactory lot."

"We have the resources to provide a constantly rising standard of living for our people, if we develop these resources intelligently and unselfishly."

Because the agents of Communism are fanatically zealous, Canadian youth must develop an equal zeal for western democracy, said the University president.

"But it is not enough to protect ourselves from Russia."

"We must learn to live with her since a perpetual cordon sanitaire is not practicable in this modern world in which the significance of distance has all but disappeared."

WISDOM OF TOLERANCE
"Understanding begets wisdom and tolerance. Let us therefore try to understand Russia."

Long-range step which must be initiated at once is to overcome the weaknesses of our present system, he said.

The University president reviewed the message by which graduating students could assist in this step.

Pembina River Waters Recede
Flood waters in Northern Alberta's Rossington and Manola districts, about 60 miles northwest of Edmonton, grew brighter today as the overflying Pembina river began to recede again.

The river dropped about six inches Tuesday night and was continuing to recede today at Rossington.

A further rise in the river at Manola and Rossington is expected in about 10 days, but if the levees in the meantime, it will be able to take the run-off from mountain snow.

HORSES ARE SHOT
Meanwhile in Manitoba's northern area, some farmers are reported to have shot their horses and other stock when the rampaging Saskatchewan river rose too fast to permit evacuation.

A two-foot rise in the Saskatchewan river at Edmonton on Monday was viewed apprehensively by officials at The Pas, Man. They fear this head of water will roll in on the inundated area within three weeks—before the water-burdened land has drained.

Power plant officials here, however, said the level of the Saskatchewan river has remained the same since Tuesday morning.

HE'LL HAVE TIME TO DO PLENTY PANTS PRESSING

Wearing unpressed trousers, Robert L. Abbe, Edmonton, appeared in police court today charged with theft of two electric irons.

He was sentenced to four months hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan.

The irons were stolen from two city department stores Saturday.

He was arrested by detectives when attempting to sell one of the irons at a second hand store.

Northbound Freight Moves
First freight shipment over the Northwest Territories water system for the 1948 season has been completed, according to F. W. Broderick, managing director of the Northern Transportation Co. Ltd.

First freight, a load of 720 tons moved out of Waterways on the Athabasca river May 14 two days ahead of the first movement a year ago.

MOVES OVER PORTAGE
The shipment arrived at Fitzgerald M.J.T. where it is to be moved over a 24-mile portage to Bell Rock and stockpiled or loaded on barges to ice clear from Great Slave Lake.

Great Slave Lake is the last of the chain of lakes and rivers used for transportation in the north to clear of ice. This is expected to happen about June 10, according to Mr. Broderick, though, he said, it did not clear until June 27 last year.

In order to take full advantage of the open water on the Mackenzie river, Mr. Broderick said the company wintered one of its large boats, the Radium Charles, near Providence.

It is hoped the boat can make the trip to Norman Wells, load with oil and return to Great Slave Lake by the time the ice clears to make delivery in Yellowknife.

HEAVY FREIGHT MOVEMENT
The company hopes to handle between 30,000 and 35,000 tons of freight this year. Last year they handled between 20,000 to 25,000 tons. The increase is largely due to the fact that the Hudson's Bay Company has gone out of business as a common carrier.

To handle the increased freight the company is adding 12 new barges and a new tug, a sister ship to the Radium Charles, to its fleet. Eight of the new barges have been assembled and put in service, and the tug recently shipped from Victoria is expected here shortly.

Community Work Value Stressed
Citizenship and community service formed the topics of the main address delivered by R. M. Moore of the Edmonton Kiwanis to the Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening.

Mr. Moore stressed the value of the community work done by service clubs and other community organizations.

Eight new members were inducted to the organization. They were W. Graham, J. Bradley, Allan Gerow, Murray Martin, Wilfred Dr. Bruce Campbell, George Campbell and George Steven.

Letter of condolence was to be sent to the family of Leonard Berenson, long associated with club activities.

At next week's meeting the club will entertain at their semi-annual Ladies Night.

Seeding By Airplane Is Worth Considering

Seeding Alberta farmlands by airplane is worthy of further consideration in the opinion of A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner for Alberta.

Mr. Wilson, in considering proposals of two California farmers to assist in Alberta seeding operations by use of airplane said, "if it works satisfactorily in California, the plan is worth considering for Alberta farmers."

However, Mr. Wilson was not prepared to recommend the plan until more information was obtained on its success in this province.

The Californian, Roger Brundt and R. F. Lane employed the airplane seeding on farms in the Sacramento Valley and are prepared to bring about five of their planes to Alberta about June 1 when seeding is completed in the valley.

They expect to seed about 1,600 acres a day during the long Alberta days, if permission can be obtained to bring the planes into Canada.

Chief difficulty in the plan, Mr. Wilson said would be the lack of seed-killing spring cultivation.

It is planned to sow the seed on unfilled fields and follow with a single harrowing operation to cover the seed.

Queries for airplane seeding are reported by Ted Holmes, manager of Western Duxbury Service, an organization conducting aerial crop dusting and spraying located at the airport.

Mr. Holmes said the queries had come from a fairly large number of farmers operating large farms.

Bouillier, secretary of the Alberta Farmers Union said casual interest regarding aerial seeding had been expressed by its members, but generally the practise was regarded as impractical for Northern Alberta's small farms.

YOUNG JAMAICAN AMONG "GRADS"
Among the hundreds of University students who graduated at convocation here Tuesday afternoon was a young Jamaican, Kilburn Urquhart.

Kilburn, or "Benny" as he is known among his fellow students on the campus, hailed from Kingston, Jamaica, Tuesday he received his B.Sc. degree in agriculture.

Benny was born and raised in Jamaica, where his father owns a plantation.

He came to Canada in 1943, studied two years at MacDonald college, Montreal and then came to Alberta.

In addition to being a successful student, Benny has built up quite a reputation on the campus as a track star and represented U of A at the intervarsity track meet at Saskatoon two years ago.

The young Jamaican isn't the only member of his family that likes to travel.

One of his brothers graduates this year from the University of Alabama and another is taking a medical course in New York.

Benny has not yet decided what his immediate future will be.

He would like to specialize in veterinary medicine here for a while and eventually return to Jamaica to do extension of research work.

It's Up to the Citizens Now

The next move in the campaign to get decent streets and lanes and sidewalks for this city is up to the citizens and organizations of Edmonton.

The Edmonton Bulletin has pointed out certain facts with which the majority of Edmonton people agree.

Judging from hundreds of approving letters and from talk one hears every where, Edmonton residents unanimously agree that Edmonton's streets are a rank disgrace and that those in charge of this work for the city can no longer get by with alibis and excuses.

The time has come, then, for all these people and all these organizations to do something about it.

Tact approval is not enough. Even the most vehement of outspoken approval is not enough. The need now is for a concerted bombardment of opinion on the mayor, the commissioners and the city council so that there will be no possible lingering doubt that the people of Edmonton demand and insist upon having, not only decent streets, but the removal of those conditions or persons that have perpetuated the do-nothing and patchwork policy of the past several years.

It is true that there has been, in the past, a cement shortage. There was never a shortage of substitute paving materials.

There was never a shortage of gravel. If the civic authorities were as deeply concerned about mud and dust conditions as they have pretended, every street and lane in this city would have been at least gravelled years ago and kept gravelled until every highway could be paved.

The unanswerable indictment against Edmonton's lackadaisical paving policy is that this city has only 75 miles of paved streets as against 425 miles of unpaved streets and 500 miles of unpaved lanes.

That proportion exists in no other city of this size on the North American continent. There is no reason under heaven why it should exist here.

The citizens of Edmonton and the organizations of Edmonton can change this intolerable situation.

It is up to them to act now.

A Disappointment for Canadians

The budget brought down in the House of Commons yesterday by Finance Minister Abbott will be a flat disappointment to most Canadians in its failure to reduce the personal income tax.

It will be felt that if the government was able to abandon the pari-mutuel and amusement taxes, which are imposed on a minority which can best afford to pay, something could have been done to lift the present burden on the Canadian income.

There will be a general reluctant satisfaction, of course, in the estimated surplus of $670,000,000 which will reduce the total national debt to $12,378,000,000.

With last year's surplus of $373,000,000, the first in 17 years and which was greater than all previous surpluses since confederation, the national debt is now less by $1,043,000,000 than it was two years ago.

And there is something to Mr. Abbott's argument that the national obligation should be whittled down in times of prosperity.

But the solvency of the state has little meaning when it is achieved by reducing the citizen to near-bankruptcy.

Failure to reduce the personal income tax is not justified by any increased expense in government because while total revenues have been decreased by $138,000,000, national expenditures have been reduced by $435,000,000.

Perhaps the keynote of the budget is sounded most clearly in the announcement that gross national production is more than $13,000,000,000, a 13 per cent increase over the previous year.

This is evidence of prosperity and it has apparently been seized upon by the government as an excuse for continuing the squeeze on the taxpayer.

No matter what the economics of the situation might be, Canadians will be resentful that the fruits of this prosperity are being so determinedly diverted from their private pockets into the pockets of the state.

Television and the CBC

The newly-announced policy of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in refusing to permit "private Canadian television stations to become outlets for non-Canadian systems" is unduly restrictive.

It imposes an unnecessary hardship on private stations and an unnecessary curtailment of the television broadcasts available to the Canadian public.

The meaning of this new order, so far as television is concerned, can be defined as comparable to an order that would forbid Canadian radio owners to tune in to United States radio stations.

CBC

It is true that the CBC was established to control radio in Canada. Under its present powers it could easily forbid private stations to carry American broadcasts that were undesirable.

But to insist that every television program seen and heard in Canada should filter through the CBC networks is a presumption of power that neither parliament nor the Canadian people ever intended the CBC to hold.

The CBC board of governors should at least seek a directive from parliament before formulating such a sweeping and restrictive policy.

American Heart Sound And Strength Titanic

CHILCOTTE, Ohio.—We just about got ourselves an extra passenger, and spare driver, for our western trip.

We got into conversation with the driver of a sight-seeing bus in Washington.

It turned out he was eager to get to Las Vegas, Nevada, to cross the 14 and dot the 14 of his pending divorce.

He said he would be glad to help the wife with the driving. But it turned out on his last round trip he took exactly three days each way.

According to my figures that meant he must have done about 800 miles per day. That's about 800 or 800 too many miles for us per day.

PHILPOTT

We decided to loop down through Virginia, a drive west by little-travelled highways.

That was a mistake. Either we should have gone further south, or come further north. We did see some luscious scenery and some wonderful looking old farms not very far south of Washington.

But they charged us more to stay one night at the hotel in a small town in Virginia than we paid down at the swank Warden Park in Washington itself.

We went to the latter for a special reason. And coming through West Virginia, we kept the pace, even though the mountain scenery is grand.

Dark Shadow Over Nation

In Washington itself you begin to feel the black shadow that again darkens the face of this mighty nation. Even if the slogan, "Jim Crow Must Go," were not a part of the present election campaign, you could find evidence of race tensions everywhere. There were two race cases on in Washington while we were there, both involving accused Negroes. Had these men been accused in the "deep South" a few years ago they would have been lynched, even if, as in one case, there was no evidence on which any sane jury would convict.

It is obviously because the pressure of world public opinion is making itself felt that U.S. Negroes are at last winning political rights in the South. Yet numbers will vote this year in places where it literally would have been worth their lives for them to try to vote even a few years ago.

Whatever else may be said against President Truman, let no one deny him this honor. By standing up for Negro rights he has started the revolt in the "deep South" which may prove his 1948 ruin. He is caught in a two-pronged pincer.

"Tourists"

Welcome

We did not see any southern gentlemen drinking mint juleps on broad verandas. We did see many signs on in front of once stately homes that "tourists" were welcome.

Coming through Virginia I came to the conclusion that the Americans make too much of their history. You can hardly drive along any highway without coming to some sign that commemorates some battle. Most of the battles of the Civil War were on the territory of the losers. In a sense they are still fighting that war today. For I am convinced that the average white southerner tends to oppose many racial reform movements simply because they originate from the north, not only from a people who do not have to live with the scoundrels of the men who won a bitter war (the bloodiest in history) but from the victors.

"Now, I want everyone to write me a short description of the country they live in," said the teacher, said to her class. After five minutes she saw that down her pupils had put down his pencil and had apparently completed his composition. "Surely you haven't finished already," she asked.

"Oh, yes, I have, miss," was the answer. "The funniest thing I ever heard was too funny for words."

"Smiles"

We saw laughing white and dark boys and girls all coming out of church together here. We had a grand meal at a fair price. We are staying overnight in what must have been a grand and prosperous family home of the nineties. But here nobody seems to be happy in the past. They are too busy with the present.

Window Gazing For Columnists

I have a new office in a quiet backwater of the editorial room. The clattering machinery of the news gatherers is no more than a soft murmur of sound and the old, familiar shout of "Boy!" is a distant cry, a hailer in another valley. And I like it here.

The office is one of those in an austere alley of glass bricks occupied by editorial writers recently removed from the crash of the news, all thoughtful men, pondering the complicated problems. Occasionally there is a precise, metallic clack indicating that a writer has ejected a careful word.

After the strange confusion of sharing a nook with the garden expert and the shopping guide expert it is pleasant to be among the men who live in the rarified air most concerned with the fate of the world than the compost piles or the price of tomatoes.

The walls of the office are a kind of mottled glass so that the busy floor outside becomes a world of passing sidewalks. It is by the society department. The melodic rattle of women's voices comes entrancing through my transom.

My desk is pushed up against an immense plate glass window so that as I sit before a type-writer I view a sweeping panorama of the city stretching away into the cloudy east and a slice of the city is opened up revealing the hurried movement in the street below.

For I have done very little work in this office. The thick jungle of brick and steel and cement is alive with interest and a man could sit here by the window forever lost in the contemplation of the life and times of a wet city at work.

Varied Scene Over the Roofs

It is raining. The wide expanse of the sky is broken by the reaching bulk of a gas tank and the towering chimneys. It is a wash of grey water color. Off to the east stretch acres of black, wet rooftops with ventilators and skylights growing in them like ugly mushrooms. Beyond, shrouded in the gloomy mist, the pale silhouette of homes.

In all this canvas of severe lines none is as stark as the hotel across the way, a gaunt and narrow building with a dozen damp pigeons tucked under the eaves. A few moments ago I watched a blind beggar and a light come from the hotel across the way, a gaunt and narrow building with a dozen damp pigeons tucked under the eaves. A few moments ago I watched a blind beggar and a light come from the hotel across the way, a gaunt and narrow building with a dozen damp pigeons tucked under the eaves.

Below, in the chasm of the overhanging floor, the traffic goes on and across the rooftops more lines of cars slide across the viaduct standing on its stilts.

Almost at my feet in a protected nook bounded by freight sheds across by cars is a square of grass, no higher than a bad-minton court yet green and carefully tended. In all the sooty and drizzling scene this unlikely little plot gives a lone welcome to the rain.

The most compelling sight from this eagle's nest of mine is the cliff of an office building no more than a hundred yards from my chair. In all the windows of this building the lights are burning, the activity is exposed. It is like being in a doll's house without walls.

There's something immensely comical about this sight for any one who has seen the same thing happening behind those squares of glass. For each office presents its little tableaux of confusion. Each is dedicated to a different purpose, but in every one of them there is the same outward appearance of urgency.

All through the day figures scurry about in the corridors, over desks, reach into filing cabinets, confer, stride to another desk. Stenographers crouch over their typewriters with fingers flying, reach for telephones, scribble memos.

It is exhausting to behold and appalling, too, for I know that in one of these offices they are handling the affairs of a certain plastic toilet set.

And these hared scenes are going on all over the city. In the crowded structures of business in the scope of my new view, I see the confines of the window pane the bleak city grinds away in high gear, filled with a sense of importance and meaning for each of its citizens.

Indian Problems

Editor, Bulletin.—Your editorial of May 7, entitled, "Indians Want Both Ways," draws attention to the unfortunate circumstances under which these original Canadians are today forced to live. A short article could not, of course, give a complete picture of the situation. Your editorial does, however, appear to make certain assumptions with which we are not altogether happy.

Your title and such phrases as "the sheltered security of reservation life," seems to imply that Indian living is a soft touch—that Indians are getting something for nothing. Such a statement is hardly consistent with your later reference to "security" and "in equal and dignified."

Actually the direct treaty money paid to the Indians by the Federal Government amounts to considerably less than two million dollars rather than the twelve million dollars your figures imply. The amount the government pays the Indians each year is infinitesimal when we consider the land we took from the Indians in Canada.

The "right to vote" and "full citizenship" are synonymous. So long as the treaty Indians are denied the right of appeal to the courts of the land, are forced to live on financial handouts through the Indian Agent, must secure a permit to sell their produce, are denied the right to vote, would constitute "full citizenship" is a misnomer.

As for responsibility of citizenship, it is not commonly known that Canadian Indians pay all taxes except a tax on the lands of their reserves. Apparently in some cases even land taxes are levied.

You appear to assume that the acceptance of treaty rights and citizenship are inconsistent. If not irreconcilable, we believe that the right of the Indian (like that of every other person) to years ago, they would have been lynched, even if, as in one case, there was no evidence on which any sane jury would convict.

What else may be said against President Truman, let no one deny him this honor. By standing up for Negro rights he has started the revolt in the "deep South" which may prove his 1948 ruin. He is caught in a two-pronged pincer.

release the government, on its own terms, from certain obligations which it owes to him. This denial of rights, we emphasize, is not made on a basis of race, or education. It is intrinsically one of finance. Any Indian today who meets the regular qualifications for voting can become enfranchised under present law provided he renounces all rights to further financial assistance from the government and renounces all interests in the land and communal property of the reserve.

Where else in Canada can you find such discrimination? Does the homesteader give up his land in order to vote? Is the farmer who accepts farm subsidies for nothing? Such a statement is hardly consistent with your later reference to "security" and "in equal and dignified."

The right to vote, we consider as the reward you suggest, but rather as means to raise the Indian from his present stagnation. With this right to vote must come social responsibility.

The white man learn the way the Indians live, but not the practices—by electing and acting on local school boards, by attending town meetings, by voting in elections and accepting of municipal councils.

The Indian must learn in the same way. The opportunities for Indian education are today meager enough. We have yet to provide any consistent program whereby the reserve Indian can utilize what education he does have for constructive advancement.

The objective of our Committee of Friends of the Indians is to devise and advocate such a program on behalf of our Indian friends.

But Minister Warns of Many Problems To Be Met Business Gets No Tax Cuts

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Partial text of the fiscal portion of the budget delivered in the commons last night by Finance Minister Abbott.

This year I can again report, so far as Canada is concerned, an unprecedented rate of economic activity and a new record of progress in our government accounts.

There is still cause for optimism, both in regard to the general political situation and in economic and financial affairs, but it must be an optimism tempered with a realistic appreciation of the formidable difficulties that must be overcome if we are to achieve peace and prosperity for the world and for Canada.

The impact on Canada of the developing financial difficulties of countries in Western Europe and elsewhere was reflected in our own exchange difficulties. . . .

Our exchange reserves were reduced to dangerously low levels. We were forced to impose distasteful restrictions on imports of both consumer goods and capital goods. We found it prudent to arrange for a credit from the export

Domestic Economy Booms

Our domestic economy has continued to boom, despite the international shocks that we have received and despite the hardships we have made during the last three years into our backlog of demands accumulated during the war. Our gross national production in 1947 exceeded 13,000,000,000, up by 13 per cent over 1946, and the highest of most of this increase was due to the rise in prices and wage rates.

The most striking feature of the national expenditure last year and now is the high level of capital expenditure in new construction, industrial plant and equipment, public utility projects and residential housing.

It is this, together with the high level of domestic consumption and exports, which has kept us so fully employed and, indeed, straining our economic capacity. It is also one of the main forces behind

Cannot Keep Controls

Neither this government nor this parliament has either the political mandate or the constitutional power to maintain indefinitely in peacetime a strait-jacket of controls over prices, production and distribution. . . .

We have consequently removed controls on all but a very few items where shortages are so acute that no reasonable increase in price could either curtail the demand or bring about a better distribution. . . .

Our budget policy, as well as the expenditure aspects have been primarily directed to countering the inflationary pressures threatening the war. . . .

Our revenues, on the other hand, declined only from $5,013,000,000 in 1946 to $2,007,000,000 in 1947, and the further decline last year was very moderate, considering the reduction in tax rates, because the total for the year was no less than $2,369,000,000.

On the taxation side, our policy has been to reduce our taxes where they were impeding work and production, but otherwise to keep them as high as is reasonably practicable in the circumstances, in order to produce a surplus that could be used to make the loans and investments we are required to make and to reduce the huge debt that we necessarily accumulated during the war. . . .

Business Gets No Tax Cuts

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Business was told last night by Finance Minister Abbott that it needed no tax reduction in its new budget—and it got none.

The dominion's corporation tax, the minister announced, will stay at its current level of 30 per cent of profits.

While Mr. Abbott conceded that this tax is "substantial," he noted that—even with the addition of provincial corporation taxes—business in this country pays less than in the United States.

In both countries, corporations were "thriving, to say the least."

Bigger Payoff Ahead For Alberta Bettors

People who speculate on horse racing will get heavier payoff when their favorite comes home as a result of the Abbott budget.

Dropping of the five percent dominion tax on pari-mutuel bets will give patrons of Alberta race tracks five percent more return on each winning bet.

This means that by the end of the fiscal year Britain had drawn $1,000,000,000 from the total of $1,250,000,000 authorized under the United Kingdom Financial Agreement of 1946.

The interest-free $700,000,000 loan made to the United Kingdom in 1942 had been repaid to $331,479,000 by last March 31. It was agreed in 1946 that the loan would remain interest-free until 1951 when the agreement will be reviewed.

During the fiscal year Russia paid back $2,500,000 of a $10,000,000 loan extended during the war, said Mr. Abbott. "This wiped out the loan by the date repayment was due."

OTHER ADVANCES
During the same period, $130,000,000 was advanced to other foreign governments under the Export Credits Insurance Act. The largest advance was to France—$49,945,000, Belgium $16,000,000 and repaid $2,112,000 during the year.

China borrowed $20,046,000, Czechoslovakia $10,315,000, Netherlands $28,538,000, the Netherlands East Indies $5,900,000 and Norway $1,506,000.

Some interest on earlier loans was unpaid by foreign countries. In Belgium's case the transaction was $1,000,000 and in Norway's case $150,000.

Our total expenditures of all kinds were reduced from $5,136,000,000 in 1945-46 to $2,369,000,000 in 1946-47, and there was a further substantial reduction last year to $2,007,000,000.

Our revenues, on the other hand, declined only from $5,013,000,000 in 1946 to $2,007,000,000 in 1947, and the further decline last year was very moderate, considering the reduction in tax rates, because the total for the year was no less than $2,369,000,000.

On the taxation side, our policy has been to reduce our taxes where they were impeding work and production, but otherwise to keep them as high as is reasonably practicable in the circumstances, in order to produce a surplus that could be used to make the loans and investments we are required to make and to reduce the huge debt that we necessarily accumulated during the war. . . .

Higher Rates Not Desirable

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott in his budget speech in the commons last night said no reasonable increase in interest rates would succeed in cutting down either business or private expenditure.

"A rise in rates sufficient to produce these results would cause so drastic a fall in the prices of bonds and such chaotic conditions that I doubt whether any responsible banker would recommend it as a deliberate policy."

Mr. Abbott noted the government and Bank of Canada recently had allowed market forces to bring about a slight increase in the yield on government securities. This would not have any great effect in cutting down capital expenditure.

It was difficult to believe higher interest rates would lead the general public to cut down his living expenses, Mr. Abbott said. "The demand side of the market 'leads me to the conclusion that no reasonable increase in interest rates is likely to affect materially the action of the industrial borrower.'"

It would take a really substantial increase to dampen the industrial borrower's demand for funds.

"What we need is a slowing down of the demand for funds, the capital development which has been taking place at a pace which has been straining our resources," he said.

The state motor registrar refuses to license it as such. In a letter he asked Bell to put up $32 for a permit to use the vehicle on North Dakota highways, plus a regular bus license.

"A bus? Heavens, when I get there I don't want to see that car there isn't any room for commercial passengers," commented Bell. He says he will contest the requested extra fee.

2 More Big Liners
Return To Service
MONTREAL, May 19.—(CP)—Two more passenger liners, the 20,000-ton Samaria and Scythia, are expected back for St. Lawrence river service later in the season. T. G. Lockwood, president of Cunard-Donaldson Ltd., announced here yesterday.

ERF HELPS CANADA
The European Recovery Program would help Canada by strengthening other countries which are Canada's customers. It would also enable Canada to sell more of its exports to United States dollars.

"These are clearly great advantages but I wish to emphasize that the program will not in itself solve our exchange problem."

It should help to assure us much larger cash markets for our exports than would otherwise be available but we must make the goods available for export by increasing production, by being sparing in the use of imports and by holding down domestic consumption in reasonable check."

Shares Recovered
CALGARY, May 19.—(CP)—Police said yesterday that $8,500 worth of negotiable Imperial Oil shares, stolen from the office of National Petroleum Corporation last week, have been recovered. A suspect is being held on a vagrancy charge pending further investigation.

Pensions Total
Shows Increase
OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Number of disability pensions payable to veterans of the Second World War increased by about 16,000 to a total of 86,309 in the year ended last March 31, J. L. Melville, chairman of the Canadian Pension Commission, announced yesterday.

The government's liability on account of disability in the case of Second World War pensions increased by $25,316,487 in addition there are a total of 17,654 dependent pensions payable from the Second World War with a total liability of $11,592,877.

Mr. Melville's report showed also that the number of pensions payable to veterans of the First World War declined about 1,400 during the last fiscal year to 69,390, with a total liability of $25,507,254. Dependents receiving pensions from that war totalled 16,518 with the liability $10,392,877.

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott served up a $20,000,000 dish to the Canadian dinner-table last night.

That's the amount of annual revenue the government gave up in cleaning off the eight-per-cent sales tax, effective today, from virtually all the remaining foods to which it has applied.

The government's big gift to the consumer in this budget, the sales tax concession undoubtedly will mean much more to the householder than $20,000,000 by the time it reaches him.

It is imposed at the manufacturer's level, and by the time it has trickled down to the actual consumer, it has been pyramided by make-ups along the distribution route.

Removal of this impost affects considerable list of canned, packed and prepared foods, and Mr. Abbott expressed the hope in his budget speech that the saving would be passed along to the consumer.

However, its effects would not be felt by the household immediately. The tax already has been paid on goods now in the retailer's—and in some cases the consumer's—hands.

Until this stock has been disposed of, the ultimate buyer is expected to continue paying tax on it.

Previously, the tax did not apply to such staples as bread, butter, milk, fresh meats, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables, and poultry.

To this list now will be added "practically all" forms of packaged and processed foods.

Processed fruits and vegetables, including jams, jellies and marmalade, fruit and vegetable juices, prepared meats and poultry, whether canned, smoked, cooked, frozen or dried; canned soups, canned fish, prepared breakfast foods, macaroni and spaghetti.

It Will Take Longer Anyway

The saying goes that 'all horse players die broke' and until evidence is furnished to the contrary it must be admitted that whoever first got off with the tidbit wasn't whistling into the wind.

Only a super optimist expects to pick 'live' horses often enough to keep from digging into the financial reserves, it any.

Nevertheless the news contained in Tuesday's budget release to the effect that the powers-that-be at Ottawa will no longer be around to collect their five per cent pound of flesh will be welcomed in this neck of the woods by the get-rich-quick citizen.

Previously, what with the track operators also cutting themselves in for seven per cent and the provincial government tapping the muck into the time of another five per cent, that which went into the machines as a healthy two-buck wager came out as a whittled down $1.66.

Obviously it didn't take long for the rake-off gentry to come into most of the you-know-what.

Even with the levy down to 12 per cent the task of the horse player in making his favorite system pay dividends is still calculated to increase the sales of head-ache remedies.

But relief on basis of five-cents-on-the-dollar isn't to

Situation Well in Hand

In the meantime arrangements seem well in hand for the opening of the prairie turf season at Calgary Saturday. Daily more horses make it by railway car and automobile way to Victoria Park. The expectation is that close to 500 of the hay-burners will be on the grounds by the end of the week.

Such handicap stars as Pagan Star, Brockington, Ringabout (Kentucky), Lou Marks is back), Edmonton-owned Spangled Belle and more are being pointed for early starts.

It's interesting to note that Lou Marks is again on the scene. The Kentucky thoroughbred fancier was a familiar figure in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina and other western centres until he suddenly turned up missing last year.

It has been the Marks custom to bring with him from the Blue Grass a string of 15 to 20 four-footed meal tickets. Most seasons his charges have made it to the winner's circle often enough to keep the wolf from the stable door.

Jolting Johnny Greco Cops Nod Over Hurst

MONTREAL, May 19. — Joltin' Johnny Greco retained his Canadian welterweight championship here Tuesday night when he pounded out a unanimous 12-round decision over Harry Hurst, his neighborhood rival from Montreal's West End. Greco weighed 146½ and Hurst scaled 145½.

The judges' decision was loudly applauded by the forum crowd of 2,205 that contributed a net gate of $21,958.

Greco was master most of the way using infighting tactics to advantage. He caught Hurst several times with right jabs.

The champion was in trouble only once and that was in the second round when Hurst connected with two straight right uppercuts that staggered Greco.

But hard-hitting Hurst failed to follow through and Johnny quickly bounced back to throw a flurry of punches at Hurst's head.

Only semblance of a knockdown in the fight came in the ninth round, when Greco missed with two right haymakers and his momentum carried him tumbling to the canvas. There was no count.

In the semi-final, veteran Dave Castilious of Montreal, former Canadian welterweight, lightweight and featherweight champion, was awarded a technical knockout when Redderee Bobbie Leitham stopped the fight at one minute and six seconds of the sixth round after Juan Carrera of New York had hit the deck six times.

Castilious weighed 140, Carrera 138.

Johnny Black Signs Cleveland Contract

Johnny Black, colorful Flyer left-winger, has signed a contract with Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

Tuesday, from his home in Calgary, Gail Egan, head scout for the Cleveland organization announced that Black had agreed to report to the Barons training camp next fall. The document, binding Black to a professional whirl, was signed in Edmonton at the week-end. Egan making a special trip to the Alberta capital in quest of the wing's signature.

The week-end rapprochement culminated a long period of negotiating. It is understood that Black received a highly lucrative contract on a make-good basis.

HARD LUCK PLAYER

As a member of the Flyers' top line with Mervyn Dymally and Bill Maher, the shifty Black turned in many a sterling performance during the 1947-48 season, his second with the club. While with the new Allan Cup champions he has been a hard luck player last year he was out for several weeks with a shoulder injury. During the recent campaign he suffered a back injury which sidelined him for a time.

Black's decision to join the AHL champion Cleveland squad (the Barons established a new world record this past season by going 30 games without defeat), means that as many as five of the Flyers' best may be missing next season. Already it has been announced that Doug Anderson, 'Bing' Merluk and Bud MacPherson, all in place on lists by Montreal Canadiens, while goalie Al Rollins is reported to Chicago Black Hawks.

Proceeds will go to the Calgary Crippled Children's Hospital.

Canada's Olympic Cagers Selected

Three Teams Represented As 14-Man Line-Up Named

MONTREAL, May 19. — (CP) — Canada's basketball representation at the Olympic Games in London will be a 14-man squad, made up of seven players from the University of British Columbia, six from Montreal YMHA and one from Vancouver Clover Leafs.

The selections were made known Tuesday by Secretary W. A. Irwin of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association of notification from President A. Laurie Irwin in Toronto.

UBC and YMHA were finalists in the Olympic trials at Toronto last week. The Westerners won the final game. Clover Leafs and University of Western Ontario were knocked out.

Personnel of the Olympic team was left in the hands of coaches Bob Osborne of UBC and Moe Abramowitz of the Y, each having the privilege of selecting seven players from his team.

Osborne picked the full allotment from his squad. Abramowitz was ready to name seven Montrealers, but found one of his aces, Abe Dilovsky, could not make the Olympic trip for business reasons.

Abramowitz said Tuesday he thought Vancouver Clover Leafs, winners earlier of the national title against YMHA, should be represented. He has requested that Jack Pomfret of Leafs fill out the list, but there may be something of a snag in the selection.

Pomfret is director of physical education at UBC and may not be eligible under Olympic regulations. It was indicated this point will be taken up immediately with Olympic authorities.

If Pomfret is ineligible, it is likely Otto Bakken, his six-foot-four teammate, will be invited by YMHA.

Pomfret and Bakken were terrific in the qualifying series for the national title between the Y and Leafs.

Abramowitz' choice are Syd Stral, switch, Mervyn Dymally for Lands, Murray Waxman, Sol Tolchinsky and Duddy Bloomfield.

Coaches named are Pat McGree, Bob Seagr, Bill Bell, Hank Kennedy, Ned Munro, Reid Mitchell and Bob Haas.

BIG PGA BLOWOFF APPEARS CERTAIN

NEW YORK, May 19. — (AP) — Another big blowoff in the pro golf business may take place during the Professional Golfers Association tournament which starts at St. Louis. . . . seems a lot of the boys now are peevish at George Sneyth because he continues tournament play while he's serving as chairman of the PG tournament committee. . . . one objection is that the money winners have to kick in a percentage of their purses to pay committee expenses, but Sneyth, travelling for free, won $950 at Philadelphia last week-end.

The solution to this series of squawks, of course, would be to pay a good man to take charge of tournaments and publicity and then co-operate with him, but that won't happen until the golf pros learn to act like professionals.

Little Aid Extended By Budget

No Enthusiasm

By Average Man

The man on the street who's trying to make a living these days, isn't very happy with Finance Minister Abbott's handling of income taxes in Tuesday's federal budget.

A Bulletin survey among citizens on city streets today showed that Edmontonians want:

(1) immediate reduction of "middleman's" income taxes;
(2) continued high taxation in high income brackets;
(3) raising of the present limit on non-taxable incomes for the low and middle income brackets.

Here are some of the comments The Bulletin got in the survey:

Mikewagon driver Robert Gillies, 11821 22 avenue: "The war is all over now. I think it's about time we get a cut in income taxes, and I certainly expected one in the budget. Certainly the non-taxable income limit should have been raised. A married man without a family should be able to earn at least $2,000 without paying any income tax."

CNR express driver Thomas McCarthy, 10209 108 street: "I think the situation is terrible. The government seems to be making more money than ever before—why shouldn't we get a tax cut?"

"Single men should have a tax-free income up to $1,500 and married men up to $2,000."
"It would be a good idea if enough people could get together and make the government pay the taxes down."

Edna Monticelli, manager of confectionery store: "The budget hardly gives us a break. I certainly expected a cut."

NOT VERY GOOD
Wholesale paper salesman C. J. Heibey, 10129 102 street: "I haven't studied the budget fully yet, but I don't think it was any good at all as we're concerned. Tax cut for incomes in all fields is long overdue and I say that without hesitation."

Cassell, Indian Hospital nurse, Monica Jean Noonan, 1627 87 street: "Certainly I think income taxes should be lowered for the 'middle' income brackets, but I think they should stay high for the upper brackets."
"The government should also do something to raise non-taxable income limits for the lower incomes, the way everything is going up these days."

SHOULD BE LOWERED
Clerk Doug Gillett, 9757 86 avenue: "Taxes should be lowered. And I don't think a married man, even without children, should have to pay any tax on incomes up to $2,500 a year."

Salesman Hub Stewart, 10421 98 avenue: "There is no doubt that the income taxes should be cut for the lower income brackets, but the higher brackets should be heavily taxed. The limit for non-taxable incomes for a married man with two children should be $3,000."

Clerk Esther Thomas, 1422 102A avenue: "Everything's going up so much, the government should raise the non-taxable income limit. And I certainly wouldn't mind if the income taxes were cut."

Thomas Preece, popcorn-vendor, 12550 125 St.: "I reckon it's a pretty poor deal and it sure doesn't help me any, in fact, from now on I'll be paying more taxes on my popcorn stand than before; makes me feel like quitting altogether."

Howard Cooper, 10351 105 St.: "Can't see where there's any improvement whatsoever."

Mrs. J. S. Harvie, supported by two unnamed ladies in a local millinery shop, gave the woman's angle:

"It doesn't cover enough ground, they should have removed the tax from many things like silverware, refrigerators and handbags—they're not luxuries."

With the exception of Mr. Mills, the few who favored the new budget refused to be quoted.

SANTA CLAUS COMES—THE LONG WAY

Abbott Puts His Arm Around the Little Man

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott put a friendly arm around Canada's little man tonight, and told him there is more than one way of acting the fiscal Santa Claus.

He is holding income taxes where they are, Mr. Abbott said in his budget address, to save the taxpayer money in the long run. His argument: Tax reductions would give Canadians more money at a time when the supply of goods could not be simultaneously increased. Prices would be sure to rise. Some people would profit, but others would lose out to the higher cost of living.

"The apparent benefits," said Mr. Abbott, "would prove to be a mirage."

The little man could take that argument or leave it, then pass on to more refreshing news.

His pocketbook will smile, if not rejoice, at the minister's offering of a $30,000,000-a-year saving in the public's household costs by removal of the eight-percent sales tax from the range of food items it still plagued. These were almost entirely canned, packaged, processed or otherwise prepared foods. But most of the standard items—bread, butter, milk, eggs—already are rid of it.

The little man will exult—at least temporarily—in the death of a 20-per-cent tax on theatre tickets. If he gets around the night spots, he will appreciate the end of the 25-per-cent levy that comes along with the bill at the end of the evening. If he bets the horses, he will enjoy the demise of the five-per-cent federal toll on pari-mutuel wagers.

He will also agree with Mr. Abbott in his ministerial suggestion that the provinces should move in where he moves out. But neither Mr. Abbott nor the little man can be sure they won't find there was no joy at all in liquor, tobacco, soft drinks, chocolate bars. Taxes lay where they are. There were occasional rays, such as an end to the 25-per-cent sales tax on silver-plated forks, knives and spoons and on alarm clocks worth less than $10; news that the refundable portions of both 1943 and 1944 income taxes will be repaid next year; news that the government will pay two-per-cent interest on overpaid taxes.

But, all in all, it was neither a momentous nor a merry budget for the little man.

Furthermore, Mr. Abbott's final word was of the future. The day of big income tax cuts, he implied, is over. Large budgets are here to stay, and "we cannot lightly reduce taxation in any field."

RCAF Pilots Attending New Course

Learn to Handle
Pontoon-Equipped
Norseman Planes

Six pilots from Northwest Air Command are getting some unique schooling these days.

They are attending the first "float" school ever held in this part of the Dominion. The pilots are learning the intricacies of handling pontoon-equipped Norseman planes.

Most of the "school" is being held at the Cooking Lake base 20 miles southeast of Edmonton.

The RCAF pupils are getting 180 hours of float flying, under the direction of F/O J. Jaworski of Edmonton.

In addition to learning takeoffs and landings from Cooking Lake waters, the six pupils are getting ground instruction on bush flying, and added hours of instruction on float-plane takeoffs from Edmonton airport.

Six pilots are: F/O Bert Madill, F/Lt. Jack Alvis, F/O Tommy Futer, F/Lt. J. B. McNally, F/O E. D. Harper, F/O J. W. Murphy.

Alberta's Tourist Guide Is Ready

Alberta's new tourist guide booklet, "Facts About Alberta," has just come off the presses.

The booklet, a 1948 edition of last year's "Facts About Alberta," is attractively illustrated and was prepared by the Alberta Travel Bureau. It will be distributed by the latter branch of the government along with other travel literature to the tourist, along with information on sports activities and resorts.

A new section of the booklet deals with the Alaska highway and one gives the same type of general information as it does for the province itself.

Tax Cut to Benefit Exhibition Patrons

Patrons to the annual Edmonton Exhibition will benefit from the five per cent federal tax reduction, Alex Bonneau of the Exhibition Association said today.

This means that the tax levied on customers has been whittled from 17 to 12 per cent.

The 12 per cent total is made up of seven per cent to the grounds' operators and five per cent to the Alberta government.

Otherwise on the Edmonton sporting scene fans have little to cheer about in finance minister Abbott's budget.

Since the Big Four baseball league is not affiliated with organized professional baseball there will be no reduction on admissions to Renfrew Park.

John Ducey, leasee of Renfrew Park, said this morning that the amusement tax reductions apply only to recognized professional clubs.

When the Kansas City Monarchs and House of David baseball teams perform here this summer the public will benefit at the turnstiles.

Formerly the federal tax on professional games at Renfrew was 10 per cent, with the provincial government receiving a 20 per cent take.

Hockey admissions in the Western Canada Hockey League will not be affected. The WCHL is recognized as an amateur circuit and is not subject to the budget reductions.

Welfare System Defended

U.S. Adoptions
Satisfactory
Commission Told

Some 243 Alberta born babies were adopted by U.S. residents in the years 1934 to 1947, a Royal Commission investigating child welfare conditions in the province was told Tuesday.

Charles H. Hill, Alberta child welfare superintendent, testifying as the sitting witness, said he had placed the children in 240 homes and to his knowledge, every one had been a satisfactory placement.

S. Bruce Smith, counsel for the provincial government, who was questioning Mr. Hill, asked: "Why do you allow children to be adopted in the U.S.?"

"Up to 1943, when Edmonton became an authority, babies were adopted outside of the province. More legitimate babies were born after that and we had more good homes for the children," Mr. Hill replied.

SITUATION ACUTE
"The situation became acute," Mr. Hill added, "and we had to do all means we could so this could be done."

"In every instance they have been wonderful placements and the children have wonderful homes," the welfare superintendent said.

Greatest number of babies adopted by Americans was in the years 1945 and 1946 when 32 and 31 respectively were placed in U.S. homes.

HANDLED 10,000
Mr. Hill said that he had handled "at least 10,000" adoptions cases since he has been connected with the department of health and welfare.

"Did you ever go out to get babies for adoption?" Mr. Bruce asked the witness.

"Never," Mr. Hill testified, "as well as ordinary babies."

"We have three or four children with disabilities on hand now. We wouldn't expect an unmarried mother to bring up an imbecile child," Mr. Hill testified.

All cases of children going to the U.S. were "okay" by the American consul, Mr. Hill said. He said such cases are thoroughly investigated.

"Have you any complaints of babies going to the U.S. other than this court and by Dr. Whitte?" Mr. Bruce asked.

Mr. Hill replied that he had not. "The Alberta child welfare superintendent said that it was the aim of his commission to place all children in homes before they are 18 years of age."

Mr. Hill said he did not think it would hurt to have the age put back from 18 to 16 and in the case of delinquents who "redeem" to be helped, the jail is still available.

He said he favored his commission helping boys over that age, however.

Answering charges of lack of qualified personnel in the department of health and welfare, Mr. Hill said he felt the staff as good as can be obtained anywhere.

Mr. Hill testified that welfare standards maintained in Alberta "couldn't be better."

Referring to delinquent children, Mr. Hill said it is not the intention of the welfare commission to take children from natural guardians on a first offence unless a court orders it.

don't realize until a child is taken away from them they have not given it the proper care.

"The child is taken under supervision," Mr. Hill added.

Government Co-Ordination For Low-Income Housing

Assistance necessary to meet the critical housing needs of Canadian low-income families can be best met by co-ordination among the Dominion, provincial and municipal governments.

This opinion was expressed by R. G. Johnson, Ottawa, general manager of the Canadian Construction Association, speaking at a dinner meeting of the Edmonton Builders' Exchange held Tuesday in the King Edward hotel.

He said continued postponement of co-ordinated housing action by the three levels of government delays relief to Canada's most serious social problem.

"These governments, he asserted, should no longer postpone a clear definition of their respective responsibilities, and should immediately co-operate in providing housing for low-income families."

He advocated the establishment of a national long-term low-cost program in keeping with the financial needs and abilities of the Canadian people, and the availability of labor and materials.

ACCORD IS NEEDED
"It is clear from the association's experience in connection with low-cost housing, roads and public projects generally that there is critical need for Dominion-provincial accord in the fields of fiscal policy, taxation, resources development, low-cost housing, labor health and social welfare," Mr. Johnson stated.

He claimed that business enterprise and the men and women of Canada are the victims and chief sufferers in the failure to develop Dominion-provincial co-operation and agreement in means to be adopted in developing Canada in keeping with its potentials.

Johnson said it was not necessary a question of division of resources.

Long-term agreements, a return in firm prices, co-operation between management and labor in building construction costs, extension of building research and development of new techniques, and encouragement of apprenticeship are other means of combating inflationary tendencies.

Farm Executives Meet To Talk Merger Plans

Executive officers of the Alberta Farmers' Union and the United Farmers of Alberta will meet in Edmonton Thursday to discuss amalgamation.

The meeting will be held in the Coronet hotel, starting at 2 p.m. George Church of Balzac, president of the UFA, and Carl J. Stimpie, president of the AFU, will be in attendance.

Preliminary drafting of a constitution acceptable to the merging farm organizations will be the chief item of business before the meeting, president Stimpie of the AFU said today.

Date and place for a joint convention to complete the amalgamation will also likely be fixed.

At the last annual convention of the UFA held here in January that organization voted to merge with the AFU.

At the AFU convention, held previously, that organization called for a plebiscite of members to decide amalgamation.

Voting has been going on steadily in recent weeks handicapped by wet weather and bad roads in the country.

Ballots returned to headquarters in date, however, have been almost solidly in favor of the merger.

Plan Opening Health Units

Three new rural health units are to be opened in Alberta this year.

Thos. Dr. W. W. Cross, Alberta minister of health, would not reveal the location of the new units today except to indicate one would be established in the south, one in the central and one in the north of the province.

Opening of the new units will bring the total number of such health units in the province to 26.

The health units operate a public health service for the municipalities within their boundaries, and fulfill the same function for rural districts as the city departments of health do for urban residents.

The province contributes 50 per cent of the cost of operation, the remainder being paid by the local authorities. Cost of operation of a rural health unit, fully staffed, is around $18,000 a year, Dr. Cross said.

Two Projects Total $140,000

Permits totaling $140,000 were issued for two commercial projects yesterday by the city architect's department.

D. G. Latta Ltd., 9525 162 avenue, took out a permit for $40,000, covering a warehouse at 9510 162 avenue. The structure will be two stories and will cover an area of 155 by 62 feet.

Will and Olson are the contractors on the project.

Hick's Edmonton Brewery took out a permit for $20,000 for the erection of a brick addition to its plant at 1021 121 street.

A. V. Carlson is the contractor.

Dangerous Driving Charge Dismissed

A charge of dangerous driving against Terry J. Thompson, 198 street, was dismissed at a Tuesday afternoon sitting of police court.

He was fined $5 and costs or 3 days for failing to have a driver's license.

Holbychuk, while driving a taxi on 104 street on April 26, was involved in a collision with a vehicle driven by an air force officer.

Million Dollar Trade Is Lost by City Yearly

Yukon Business Men
Make Sharp Criticism

Jack DeLong, Edmonton Bulletin staff reporter, has just returned from a tour of the Yukon and Alberta's northland. This is one of a series of articles on what he saw.

Edmonton is losing business worth more than $1,000,000 annually in Canada's vast northwest.

Paying lip service only to the proud slogan, "Edmonton, the Gateway to the North," wholesale firms in Alberta's capital are, through lack of foresight and initiative, permitting Vancouver to reap a golden harvest year after year.

This is the view expressed on all sides in Whitehorse, bustling centre on the Alaska Highway some 1,100 miles northwest of Edmonton. Whitehorse has a population of 3,540.

BUSINESS WITH EDMONTON
Whitehorse and the whole Yukon want to do business with Edmonton. There are many good sound reasons why Edmonton should be the major supply source for the far northwest.

One big reason is the Alaska Highway.

Here is a marvellous all-weather highway giving the Yukon direct connections with the great central part of the Dominion for the first time in history.

Goods can be trucked from Edmonton to Whitehorse in 72 hours. NO REAL EFFORT.

"Edmonton has made no real effort to capitalize on the golden opportunity for trade with the Yukon offered through the medium of the Alaska Highway," a prominent Whitehorse businessman told recently.

The main bottleneck, this businessman explained, is still lack of a good road between Edmonton and Dawson Creek.

Merchants in the northwest still bring the bulk of their goods in by boat from Vancouver by way of Skagway and then over the White Pass and Yukon railway to Whitehorse.

Shipments do not reach Whitehorse for a month to six weeks after leaving Vancouver.

"Through shortsightedness on their part in not insisting that a 'decent' road be built between Edmonton and Dawson Creek, which could cut highway shipments nine to 10 cents per ton on a year-round basis," the businessman contended.

Buyers in the Yukon want shipments made on broad bills of lading. They are getting very tired of paying about five additional freight charges on top of the main charge, he pointed out.

AIR FREIGHT BUSINESS
Then there is an opportunity for Edmonton business to inaugurate an air freighting cargo service to the Yukon by organizing among themselves.

Canadian Pacific Airlines operate a regular air mail service between Edmonton and Whitehorse, covering the 1,100 miles in a little more than seven hours.

"There is no reason why Edmonton wholesalers should not carry on a regular business with Whitehorse through co-operative shipments of perishables by air each day," he said.

Pan-American Airways fly perishables to Alaska from Seattle on a freight cargo basis at 15 cents a pound for shipments over 300 pounds.

Proper organization on the part of Edmonton wholesalers could result in a similar service for the Yukon. It was contended all lines have in charge from 45 to 60 cents per pound.

In addition to freightage costs, Edmonton wholesalers seem to think they should charge a special price for their goods shipped north.

"This is a poor way to encourage trading with the Yukon," he added.

FEED COSTS HIGH
The Yukon grows none of the hay and roughage required because of this situation cost of feeding a population of 6,000 equals cost of feeding 25,000 elsewhere.

MOTORCYCLE CRASH VICTIM IS IMPROVING

Condition of Harvey Radis, injured Sunday in a motorcycle accident near Millet, is improving according to word from Dr. J. Melling, Wetaskiwin.

Radis, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Radis, Millet, suffered concussion, a broken arm, fractured spine, and extensive joint injuries.

He is still in a semi-conscious condition, however Tuesday Dr. Melling said Radis was conscious for a short time.

James Wallace, 22, a cousin of Radis, was killed in the accident.

where in Canada, it is estimated. Living costs are about 50 per cent above those prevailing in other parts of Canada.

Vancouver businessmen are alive to the opportunities in the northwest.

Vancouver Board of Trade representatives make frequent visits north.

Edmonton business leaders welcome this city had better drive the renowned slogan of being "The Gateway to the North," in the view of the people of the far northwest, much higher than they charge in Edmonton," he declared.

Lipstick on Collar
Can Be Thing of Past

By Bea Thrifty

Is there anything a man hates more than lipstick on his collar?

Is there anything a hostess hates more than lipstick on her best linen serviettes?

Not much—but there is a way to prevent all this. You just can't give up wearing lipstick—but you can apply the new Lip-Stick-Stae that acts as a protective coating.

It comes in a little bottle—clear and you can't even tell it's on. It's on the lip some and it's on the collar some. It costs $1.50.

In the inexpensive flower world, there are tulips, red, pink, yellow and bronze-red ones—selling for 39c and 45c a dozen.

A little man you'll have a busy day when mother brings home a junior-size rug for you to play with.

A bit of practice with this and some day you'll make the All-American squad.

For strictly informal entertaining—lawn suppers, by-the-fireplace and whatnot, there is a new plastic thing out that hits home with the step-aerobic hostess. It's a kidney-shaped tray effort with sections for various types of goodies.

Every good hostess has one—fills his tray up cafeteria style—and manages on his own from there. Good idea this—they sell in sets of four for $2.95.

One of the most little wedding gifts you can buy—and not too expensive either—is a set of silver-sugar cream plus tray.

Price range starts from $7.95 and works up.

Neither plastic handy-gadget is a knife holder that can be attached to your kitchen wall.

Point of this is to prevent you slicing your thumb—when you reach for the sharp-edge razor butter knife, paring knife, or bread knife.

The holder will manage five knives and costs about 59c. And of course they are available in the colorful plastic shades, red, green, blue.

Cutting paper dolls may keep the little ones out of mischief—but it may be dangerous.

Sharp scissors can cut little fingers in less time than it takes to make an omelet.

Solution to this is a pair of plastic scissors that will cut nothing but paper.

Bright red—they sell for 14c a pair.

Every year at this time you have a date with rhubarb pie.

Now that field rhubarb from B.C. is selling at 3 pounds for 25c—you can whip up a delectable pie at moderate cost.

Flash of nutmeg lends a slightly different and interesting flavor.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Give-and-Take Boosts
Domestic Happiness

One of the things that is the matter with marriage is that there is not enough give and take in it. The domestic pattern runs to monopoly, and you will hardly find a family in which there is any real co-operation.

Sometimes it is the father who is a dictator who rules the household with a rod of iron.

Sometimes it is the tyrannical mother who is she-who-must-be-obeyed. Often it is the children who make slaves of their parents.

The point is that there is no team work in the great majority of homes. You rarely see a whole family with the same ambitions and purposes, working shoulder to shoulder in mutual helpfulness.

There is no give and take. Each is out for himself, or herself. And that is why there are so many grouchy husbands and peevish nagging wives, and why so many marriages end in divorce.

One of the basic demands of human nature is for fair play. None of us wants to be the goat. We want a square deal.

We want to receive as well as to give, and when we don't get reciprocity, it causes our dissatisfaction. And this goes all the way from the unrequited love to not getting your slice of the pie.

NEED MUTUAL SPIRIT

No love can survive that is not a mutual passion. When one kisses and the other merely tolerates, no love is born. The dream is ended. No love is born.

If you are in a position that is such a problem now stems back to mothers' unwillingness to give and take. They wanted to monopolize their children, and they refused to let even the youngest fathers have any part in their rearing.

Many a man's heart breaks as he sees a promising child being ruined for life by the jealousy of a silly mother who was not willing to share her darling with even his own father.

Selfish people think that they can acquire happiness by grabbing everything they can get their hands on for themselves, but never was there a greater mistake. For there are very few things that are any fun to do alone.

You can't talk to yourself. The best meal lacks flavor if there is nobody across the table from you.

And you have no friends because nobody loves a tightwad. You have to give as well as take in friendship, or else you are left alone.

Plain foods, say nutritionists, are best for health. They soaked whole grain cereals, whole wheat bread, milk, eggs, raw and cooked vegetables, fruit, fish and various meats are best, especially for youngsters.

No woman need suffer the self-consciousness caused by superfluous hair. Modern methods can make your face as clear as lovely Actress Rita Hayworth, above.

WHY GROW OLD

Complex Caused by Extra Hair on Face

By Josephine Lowman

The letters keep coming, hundreds a year, asking what to do about superfluous hair. Readers write as though they were desperate and the unwanted hair would ruin their lives.

They say things like: "It is giving me an inferiority complex and makes me very self-conscious." "My personality is not what it was."

Actually, the remedy is very simple and clear cut. There are four well known methods. The first and the only permanent one is removal by electrolysis. There is no danger in this if you are certain that you have an expert doing the work.

Second, there are the depilatories which are acceptable for arm or leg hair. Women say, "But I may have to keep on doing this because the hair comes back." Well, it is worth it as just as any grooming measure is.

Third, there is waxing. It is most satisfactory if you are sure that you have an expert doing your nails and expect it to last two months.

Fourth, shaving the legs. There has long been great controversy as to whether this makes the hair stiffer and thicker. I do not think it does, although one widely-known expert told me that it depends on the individual.

For the heavy black hairs on the chin electrolysis is the best answer unless you wish to keep tweezing these pests indefinitely. For the fine hair which one often sees on the jawline and the upper lip, you have cosmetic wax, or the procedure of lightening them and leaving them. Applications of peroxide will lighten the hairs.

So, you see, it is all very easy.

Chapter Plans

Fall Bazaar

Mrs. E. E. Jones will convene the fall bazaar to be held by the Municipal Chapter, IOOE, in All Saints' parish hall.

Mrs. C. L. Morton will convene a tea to be held in connection with the event. These plans were made at a recent meeting of the chapter at the Masonic Temple.

Two new conveneres were introduced, Mrs. B. Johnston, child and family welfare, and Miss J. McCormack, blind convener. Mrs. R. Spilstead was named to convene Camp Elizabeth committee.

Mrs. J. B. Manning will be IOOE convener for the Community Chest.

Mrs. R. Coles will hold a meeting soon of the Rebirthian conveneres in connection with the dining hall extension.

Mrs. R. MacDonald reported the meeting of the service and co-service conveneres changed to May 18 at the Memorial hall.

Annual service of intercession was held at All Saints' Cathedral Sunday morning.

Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick presided at the meeting.

U.K. Restrictions

To Cut Migrants

CALGARY, May 19.—(CP)—The British government's recent decision to reduce the number of immigrants which may be taken from the country by immigrants will likely cause a reduction in the number of immigrants coming to Alberta under the provincial government's immigration scheme.

Edmonton, deputy minister of economic affairs, said yesterday.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Children Suffer Fear
Of Being Unprotected

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The child who spends the largest share of time with one parent becomes very dependent upon her.

Such a baby cries and is inconsolable if the mother disappears from the room, and the older child shows marked anxiety when the parent leaves the house, even though the absence is expected.

"Recently," writes Mrs. G.S., "I have had trouble ever since I have left my daughter. She is nearly four years old, goes to Sunday school happily, but asks every day whether I am going away. She is upset even when her grandmother stays with her, and sobs bitterly when I leave her with a sitter. If she thinks I'm going out in the evening, she can't go to sleep for an hour or two after she goes to bed. One she told me that there was something next to her wrist then something in her closet. She said it was 'The big bad wolf.' She must have heard this somewhere."

"Perhaps I am more worried because when I was eight my parents went to a movie leaving me and my two-year-old sister alone. We were terribly frightened when we woke up and discovered we were alone. Our folks talked to us, told us they needed recreation, but didn't prevent us from being scared to death at every creak and noise. I am still uneasy about being left alone. I have had psychiatric treatment and am trying to get over this."

Here is a parent who, herself, is showing the life-long results of parental neglect. If parents think that a child does not suffer from being unprotected, here is evidence to the contrary.

Your child's own fears are a reflection of yours. You can't help but give yourself away and she knows that there is something to fear and so she is anxious when you leave her.

Also, she is at the age when she is imaginative about what she feels though she cannot say, "I am afraid," as easily as she can make feeble concrete monsters upon whom to blame her emotions.

So she sees big bad wolves in the dark phos of her room. If you won't help the child to take these frightful illusions away, be sure that there could not be wolves in her room, and she knows that she is not alone.

Protect her, or someone else who is just as interested in her safety.

If you assume an attitude of confidence and courage, if you keep assuring her of your love and your interest in her safety, she will cease to exhibit these anxieties when you are out of sight.

Sometimes, these anxieties are an illustration of the child's hidden fears that she is disappointing or is not loved by you. Check that with your conscience.

Our leaflet No. 68, "Common Childhood Fears," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow, Every Handing Slippery, Holy With Gloves White Bathing."

Convocation Services Colorful, Impressive

Pomp, Ceremony Mark Graduation Of University of Alberta Class '48

By Margaret Weir

Color was everywhere. In the crimson polka-dot geraniums banking the platform, in the brilliant reds, golds and blues of faculty members' hoods, in the delicate shades of coeds' corsages.

Such was the 1948 University of Alberta convocation. Color, too, was evident in the brilliant and white robes worn by His Hon. Lt. Gov. C. H. Bowen and Premier Ernest Manning.

Mrs. Bowen wore a gray suit complemented with a flowered velvet sailor hat and her trimmed top hat. Mrs. Manning wore a navy blue cape suit with a picture hat in navy blue straw.

Mrs. Robert Newton wore a navy blue ensemble with a pink hat. Traditional gowns were held high, coeds tripped gingerly over wet pavements to the church.

Graduation gowns ran the gamut of materials. Dainty sheers and elegant, lustrous, some dresses, beaded satins and crepes others.

EVEN ORCHIDS—Corsages were many and varied. Though orchids were in evidence, roses were the popular flower chosen by graduating coeds.

Straw hats gayly trimmed with flowers and veiling were chosen by many of the spectators. One particularly eye-catching model featured vivid red cabbage roses.

But just as a precaution umbrellas were in evidence. Shortages were noticed even at convocation. There just didn't seem to be enough hoods or caps for the 450 graduates.

Reminiscence of Klon School boys were the men graduates. Faces shining, they nervously mounted the platform for the conferring of their degrees. One could almost hear the sighs of relief after they had knelt before the Chancellor and were descending the platform. Many a graduate was a size too large for his gown.

In his convocation address, Premier Manning told the students that their success lay not in the stars but in themselves.

But all graduates had stars in their eyes, particularly the coeds.

Agnes Lorimer Heads Sorority—Agnes Lorimer was installed as president of Edmonton City Council of Beta Sigma Phi sorority at a recent meeting.

Other officers installed were: Eileen Crouch, vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Lennix, secretary; Mrs. Eileen O'Brien, treasurer. Presentation was made to retiring president, Dulcie Parker. Mrs. Philip Jenn, Edmonton, was sponsor of Beta Sigma Phi, made the presentation.

Plans were made for a convention of Alberta chapters of the sorority to be held in Edmonton May 22nd and 23rd.

Bowlers Gather At Annual Dinner—Annual banquet of the Lady Golfers Bowling League was held recently in the Kings Edward hotel. Yellow tulips and green candles decorated the tables.

Mrs. Gordon Lanning, president, presented the following prizes: Mrs. Marie Sangster, players' high average; Mrs. J. Morley, high single; Mrs. P. Giffen, high triple; Mrs. B. Copeman, high sub average; Mrs. J. Chown, high single sub; Mrs. June McTavish, high triple sub.

Standing in the league was as follows: Eagles, first; Birds, second; 19th hole, third; Puffers, fourth; Miss Puffs, fifth; Pars, sixth; Convolutions, Fairways; Buggies, high triple team; Sympas, high single team; Long Drivers; lowest team score; Tees, low team triple; Niblicks, hidden prize.

Mrs. H. Bacon and Mrs. J. D. Paterson won prizes at bridge.

Temperance Group Hears Mrs. Kane—Mrs. E. W. E. Kane, of the John Howard Society was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Central Women's Christian Temperance Society.

Mrs. A. E. Cook was in charge of the devotional. Officers elected at a previous meeting included: Mrs. T. M. Giffen, president; Mrs. C. P. Usher, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Short, second vice-president; Mrs. A. E. Cook, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. Mall, recording secretary; Mrs. R. A. Mayhew, treasurer; Mrs. T. Dickson, Youth Temperance Council.

The June meeting will be a week earlier than usual.

Cook, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. Mall, recording secretary; Mrs. R. A. Mayhew, treasurer; Mrs. T. Dickson, Youth Temperance Council.

Edmonton Women Turn Out For Horse Show

Edmonton's 40th annual Spring Horse Show will open officially at the Arena Wednesday at 7:45 p.m.

The four-day classic, heralded as one of the best horse shows, will attract many E.J. mountaineers.

Prominent among the yearly sports events, it also registers in the social world. Many Edmonton women will be present to witness the net-tennis.

It will be the first outing of the season where hostesses-conscious women may flaunt their casual sportswear sports clothes.

Sea Cadets Have Own Radio Station

Lac La Biche Exeter Club Secures Amateur License

LAC LA BICHE, May 19.—For the past few months the Lac La Biche Sea Cadets have published their own newspaper and now they have a radio station also. This station is licensed by the Department of Reconstruction, radio division, Ottawa, Ont., and is an amateur experimental station using the call letters V96L.B.

This project has been under consideration in the mind of the commanding officer of the corps, Lieut. J. E. McGraw, Lieut. RCSC for many months and so the first step was to organize a radio club within the corps. The club is named the Exeter Sea Cadet Radio Club.

After the club was formed a license was applied for. E. McGraw has held a radio license for many years, his pen call being V96P and therefore a license was granted the club in the name of E. McGraw, as it is necessary to have an operator in charge holding a Dominion government proficiency certificate.

The new station is housed in the Sea Cadet headquarters here and will be used to further the work of radio and wireless telephony by the corps. So far the station consists of two transmitters, one war surplus and the other is home made and a half-watt amplifier communications receiver is used.

The Sea Cadets are very enthusiastic by this new accomplishment of the corps and already several of the Alberta radio amateurs have assisted their willingness to arrange radio practice schedules with the Sea Cadets.

Brothers Realize Dream In Children's Wear Shop

Two brothers, Maurice and Richard Tougas, are proprietors of the Jack and Jill Children's Wear Shop. Tomorrow's opening of Edmonton's new departmental store for little people will mark the realization of an ambition that has been jointly shared by the Tougas boys for several years.

Richard, who was a navigating instructor with the U.S.A. AAF during World War II said he first acquired the "idea" to open a store for little people while instructing in Texas early in the war.

"Don't know offhand what prompted the desire but just thought it would be an ideal business to establish after demobilization," he said.

AN IDEAL VENTURE

"I talked it over with Maurice, who also thought it an ideal venture and plans molded accordingly. We first planned to open next door to our present site, but inability to secure sufficient stock delayed our venture until now," he added.

Maurice, older brother of the two, has been in the contracting business in Edmonton for several years. He supervised the construction of the new store and intends to give up his contracting vocation to devote full time to his new venture in the business world.

Both brothers are married. Maurice and his wife Annie and one-year-old son Marc, live at 10140 107 Street.

Brother Richard and his wife, Rebecca, and their three children, Richard Jr. 5, David, 3, and Dianne, 1, live at 11333 95 Street.

No Official Word On Carpenters Move From Lethbridge

CALGARY, May 19.—(CP)—Representatives of building trade unions in Calgary and local contractors said yesterday they had received no word regarding a possible migration of Lethbridge carpenters to Calgary. However, construction men said the industry could easily absorb them.

Part of a group of 150 carpenters, who have been refused a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost by Lethbridge contractors, are reported planning to seek employment here.

Calgary carpenters recently were granted a 15-cent increase.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(AP)—That red hat Mrs. Kathie Zahn happened to be wearing started the ruckus, but she blames it all on the radio show.

So she filed suit for $100,000 damages for the rough handling she received when she alighted from a Transbay train at the terminal here last Dec. 6.

It seems that the place was jammed with an excited mob, all intent on finding a "Mrs. Raleigh," who was supposed to be wearing a red hat at that time and place. They were hunting "Mrs. Raleigh" to win a radio-show program.

Mrs. Zahn says they tore her clothing, pulled her to the floor and otherwise mishandled her.

ROOFING for the new JACK and JILL CHILDREN'S SHOP by F. O. THIBEAULT

Brothers Realize Dream In Children's Wear Shop

Two brothers, Maurice and Richard Tougas, are proprietors of the Jack and Jill Children's Wear Shop. Tomorrow's opening of Edmonton's new department store for little people will mark the realization of an ambition that has been jointly shared by the Tougas boys for several years.

Richard, who was a navigating instructor with the U.S.A. AAF during World War II, said he had acquired the "gen" to open a store for little people while instructing in Texas early in the war.

"Don't know offhand what prompted the desire but just thought it would be an ideal business to establish after demobilization," he said.

AN IDEAL VENTURE
"I talked it over with Maurice who also thought it an ideal venture and plans moulded accordingly. We first planned to open next door to our present site, but inability to secure sufficient stock delayed our venture until now," he added. Maurice, older brother of the two, has been in the contracting business in Edmonton for several years. He supervised the construction of the new store and intends to give up his contracting vocation to devote full time to his new venture in the business world.

Both brothers are married. Maurice and his wife Anne and one-year-old son Marc, live at 10140 397 Street.

Brother Richard and his wife, Rebecca, and their three children, Richard Jr., 5, David, 3, and Dianne, 1, live at 11333 95 Street.

No Official Word On Carpenters Move From Lethbridge

CALGARY, May 19.—(CP)—Representatives of building trades unions in Calgary and local contractors said yesterday they had received no word regarding a possible migration of Lethbridge carpenters to Calgary. However, construction men said the industry could easily absorb them.

Part of a group of 150 carpenters, who have been refused a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost by Lethbridge contractors, are reported planning to seek employment here.

Calgary carpenters recently were granted a 15-cent increase.

Clothing House Opens Thursday

Edmonton Brothers Supply Little Folk

Edmonton's newest business establishment—the Jack and Jill department store for little people—will officially open for business tomorrow.

The acme of modern design and construction, this streamlined place of business situated at 10428 Jasper avenue promises to fulfill the long required need of Edmontonians for such an enterprise. A large complete stock with a varied assortment of children's clothes, shoes, furniture, toys, jewelry and just about everything that "junior" requires is the outstanding feature of this new store for kiddies.

Owned and operated by two Edmonton brothers, Maurice and Richard Tougas, the new children's shop, according to its proprietors, "will have the most complete line of children's wear and requirements in the city."

"If it's for children and we have not got it, we'll soon get it," added Maurice Tougas.

This complete and assorted stock of kiddies' requirements is displayed on two floors.

The main floor features dresses, suits, coats, diapers, vests, panties, shoes and all requirements for new-born and growing children.

This department is in charge of Mrs. Agnes Hinchey, who is assisted by three other clerks.

The lower floor will house toys, cribs, bikes, strollers, baggies, books and furniture. Tougas brothers, Richard and Maurice will man this department.

ers, Richard and Maurice will man this department.

From the attractively designed entrance to the rear of the building a comfortable and cheerful atmosphere prevails. Warm decorative coloring, designed in rich pastel shades of cherry-pink and baby blue predominate.

Daylight fluorescent lighting, modern heating and air conditioning are additional features of this new place of business.

An attractive front, featuring vitrolite tile of black and peach shades enhances the entrance and the modernly designed show window.

Counters and fixtures are in natural finish while the flooring is inlaid speckled battledup tile on the first floor, and carpet tile on the basement floor.

In short, Jack and Jill is definitely one of the most cheerful stores in the city, and promises to provide Edmonton mothers and fathers with everything they require for their children.

It'll make shopping for children's requirements a pleasure.

Sometimes a Double Is Dead Giveaway

They admit that their play would normally give others to any good player who might kill. They have been reading in my column about the inadvisability of indiscriminately doubling hand contracts, and they sent me today's hand.

do no harm. The nine was played from dummy and West refused to put on the auction.

The king of spades was the next play, followed by the three of hearts from dummy. When West again played low, declarer finessed the ten of hearts. The jack of clubs was led and allowed to ride when East refused to cover. Then the five of clubs was played and dummy's ten finessed.

The eight of clubs was led. West again went into a huddle, finally conceding the ace of spades, discarding the three of diamonds from dummy. The ace of trumps was led, a small diamond led to the king, the king of trumps was West's queen and the dummy was void.

They are still arguing about West's double. Declarer might have guessed the location of the queen of hearts, but of course the double made it easy.

EATON'S ACROSS-CANADA MAY SALE of Bemberg Sheers

Bemberg Sheers — May Sale!

It all started in England more than six months ago when EATON buyers first arranged to buy those fine British Bemberg yarns... especially for the Associated Textile Company... and especially for this exciting sale in EATON stores across Canada.

Then other EATON buyers flew to New York to confer with top-flight print studios... to secure the smartest and newest in patterns and colors.

Later more EATON buyers and fashion experts hunted American style centres for the latest and most advance designs... brought them back for a large Canadian dress manufacturer to make up.

The result is 15 STYLES ALL EXCLUSIVE IN DESIGN, PRINT AND VALUE WITH EATON'S IN CANADA... all generously cut and painstakingly finished. Sketched are eight of the 15 designs for misses, women, half-sizes and outsize.

Dark Shades! Pastels! Stripes! Florals! Novelty Prints! Misses' sizes 12 to 20; Women's sizes 38 to 44; Half sizes 16½ to 32½; Outsize 46 to 52. EATON'S Across-Canada May Sale, EACH
